I'm Consultant Rheumatologist in University Hospital Doctor Negrín, in Spain, with more than thirty years of professional clinical and research career. I've been the coordinator of the Lupus Guidelines for the Spanish Government Health Department. Furthermore, I've led several Recommendations from Spanish Society of Rheumatology and I've been also involved as co-researcher in the validation of EULAR/ACR Classification Criteria for SLE. I've always been interested y in teaching and research on systemic rheumatic diseases. In this sense, I'm faculty member of the master's program systemic rheumatic diseases of the Spanish Society of Rheumatology. Furthermore, I have accumulated , as author or co-author, more than 130 international publications, mainly devoted to SLE.

For all these reasons, I believe that, if I were to join the Executive Committee, I could make valuable contributions to SLEuro's activities and procedures.

Additionally, checking the current list of members of that SLEuro Executive Committee one can verify that there is not Spanish rheumatologists' representation on there.

Sincerely

Iñigo Rúa-Figueroa
